NATIVE MASONIAN WILL PRESENT THE REPUBLICAN CLAIM

Judge Charles Kerr, of Fayette County Will Tell Women Why They Should Be Republicans.

Among the many natives of Mason county who have made good in other sections of the state is Circuit Judge Charles Kerr, of Lexington. In considering some one to discuss before the Maysville Community Club "The History and Principles of the Republican Party" the program committee decided that Judge Kerr was the proper man. The function of the Maysville Community Club is not to elect party candidates but to furnish equal opportunity for the discussion of all sides of public questions. All those who heard Judge Wilson discuss "The Democratic History and Principles of the Democratic Party" and as many more as will fill the court house should on Tuesday, March 30, at 7:30 hear Judge Charles Kerr discuss "The Republican Party; Its History and Principles." The Maysville Community Club has a full set of officers; but no dues and no fees. Everyone is welcome to any of its meetings. The only condition of membership is sufficient interest in public matters to attend the meetings. At this time the discussion of political parties is of especial interest to voters old and new, to women as well as to men.

"I'm the sort of a feller that always calls a spade a spade!" independently asserted the new hired man.

"Very good, as far as it goes," replied Farmer Hornbeck, "but on this old-fashioned farmstead it is a great deal more important to make it act like one."

LEXINGTON BOY WAS KIDNAPED LATE WEDNESDAY

Son of Prominent Lexington Man Is Held for Ransom of $25,000—
Death Threatened.

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—Paul Little, twelve-year-old son of E. R. Little, wealthy land owner and stockman of this city, was kidnapped Wednesday afternoon by a man who, in a note delivered to the father at 7 o'clock tonight at his home on North Broadway, is demanding a ransom, supposed to be $25,000, for the lad's return.

The note is printed with a lead-pencil on soft writing paper, and declared that the writer has deep-seated enmity for the elder Little, and that he expects, through the kidnapping of the boy, to pull Mr. Little's "heart out of his breast or a large amount of money out of his pocket."

The writer of the note declares that unless the money is deposited at a designated place by a specified time the boy will be killed.

It further asserts that the writer twice has had a gun leveled on Mr. Little, with the intention of killing him.

In conclusion Little is warned not to attempt to have the writer of the note arrested if he decides to pay the money, and not to have any one about when and after it is deposited at the designated place, which is a prominent spot in Lexington.

Terry Crossfield, son of R. H. Crossfield, President of Transylvania College; Joe Morford, Frazer Wilson and Keller Little, a brother of the missing boy, say that about 1:30 this afternoon as they were coming from school, they met a stranger who wore a white and black checked suit, tan shoes, a cap and amber glasses with tortoise shell rims who told Paul he wanted him to carry a parcel from the postoffice to a residence on North Broadway, and that he would pay him $1 for the service, it being specified that he be at the post office by 4:30 o'clock.

About 4 o'clock, while the five boys were playing marbles in front of the Little house, the stranger again appeared and called Paul, who left with him. The other boys followed all the way to the postoffice. They said tonight they were suspicious of the stranger.

They watched him and Paul go into the postoffice building, and when they looked out of the window again they were gone.

FRIDAY LAST DAY OF TOBACCO SALES.

The Maysville tobacco market comes to a close with Friday's sales. There has been very little tobacco delivered thus far this week but all farmers who have tobacco on hand should make certain that it is delivered so that it may be sold on Friday or it may be on their hands until next year.

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1920.

COUNTY SCHOOLS OF MASON HAVE FULL 8 MONTHS TERM

Mason County School Term Will not Be Cut to Seven Months This Season as for Past Several Years.

Mason county's school funds have been in splendid condition this year and as a result there will be no reduction of the full eight months term but schools throughout the county will be continued until full eight months have been taught. The county schools will close the later part of April instead of on next Friday, at which time a seven months' term would have come to a close.

Superintendent George H. Turnipseed and his splendid board of education is to be congratulated upon the splendid record they are making in the handling of the school affairs of Mason county. Finances were in good condition last year and county schools would have been enabled to have finished the regular eight months school if it had not been for the havoc played in the school by the influenza scourge.

Mason county's schools are among the best in the state and the residents of the county should appreciate them. Schools in most counties of the state, which last for a six months term only have been closed for a month.

MAYSVILLE TO HAVE CINCINNATI PACKET.

Captain Elmer Fancher, of Green line steamer Chilo, which has now anchored in the local harbor announced today that Captain Green had decided to put the Chilo in the regular Cincinnati-Maysville trade, giving Maysville a regular three times a week Cincinnati packet. The Chilo will leave Maysville at noon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays in the future and her first trip on this new run will be made Saturday.

BAD WEATHER IS PREDICTED.

While thunderstorms are predicted for today by Weather Forecaster W. C. Devereaux he says the rainfall will not be sufficiently heavy to effect the continued fall of the Ohio River. There is to be a break in the spring-like weather of the last few days. Devereaux says, as temperatures are expected to fall possibly as low as the freezing mark by tonight.

BANK ROBBED.

They watched him and Paul go into the postoffice building, and when they entered also, and stood near a window from which they watched the man and boy after they had passed out of the building and stood talking on the sidewalk.

The attention of the boys was diverted for a brief period, and when they looked out of the window again they were gone.

BANDITS APOLOGIZE AND RETURN PURSE.

Philadelphia, Pa. — After holding up a woman and taking away her pocketbook, two highwaymen returned it to her with apologies when they found it contained only $1.

She was Mrs. Robert Sheppard, a former nurse in the Frankfort hospital.

SAYS SPIRIT OF PATTI TEACHES HER TO WARBLE.

New York. — Miss Belle Philrose, 23, of 821 Crescent street, Astoria, L.I., who says she never has studied vocal culture and cannot read music, solemnly asserts that the spirit of Adelina Patti is teaching her to sing.

After the death of her parents ten years ago the girl went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Levin of 369 Madison street, Manhattan, and moved with them to Astoria two years ago. She does the housework for the family, but is treated as a daughter. She says she never got beyond the fifth grade of the grammar school and never was interested in music, not even humming tunes about her house work. The change came last October.

"Late one afternoon while I was finishing sweeping," she said recently, "the sweet face of a woman appeared before me in the room. I didn't see anybody—just the face, of no particular age, with dark eyes and dark hair rolled back. 'I am Adelina Patti,' said the smiling lips. 'You are too gifted to be a servant. You should be a great singer. I will teach you.'

"From time to time the vision appeared again, urging me to sing, and saying I should be a reincarnation of Patti. So I began playing and singing, though I cannot read a note of music and no one ever showed me how to sing. Jack Dale, musical director of the War Camp Community service, heard me and was amazed when I told him I had never studied. He got me the chance to sing for the soldiers."

Miss Philrose says confidence has taken the place of diffidence since she began singing under Patti's direction. Even her speaking voice has changed.

Jack Dale admitted he could not understand the phenomenon. He thought there was something psychical about it, but suggested her idea of a "vision" might have originated in a novel. He had never known anybody to do the things she does without coaching. At a trial in the Amsterdam opera house, he said, she took a high C and sustained it in a way that startled her critics.

According to civil and military officers, assigned to investigate the tragic case, Captain Doster and his wife quarelled most of the night of the tragedy. The investigators said that Mrs. Doster some weeks ago left her husband and went to California after having accidentally intercepted a note addressed to him from another woman. This note, officers said, may have led to the shooting.

Mrs. Doster is hovering between life and death.

Mrs. Doster had deliberately planned the deed, according to officers, who made public the discovery of a note under her pillow.

Captain Doster, in the note, asked that Captain Doster's parents in Berkeley, Calif., be notified, officers said. The full contents of the note were not disclosed.

The army captain's wife shot her husband as he stood watching his hands. The wife fired as she lay in bed, using a revolver which she drew from under her pillow, authorities stated.

KILLS SOLDIER HUSBAND AFTER FINDING NOTE.

Columbus, N. M. — Captain Wade Doster, attached to the medical corps at Camp Furlong here, was shot and killed in a Columbus hotel by his wife, who then turned the revolver on herself.

This note, officers said, may have led to the shooting.

Doster, after being shot, fell across the bed on which his wife lay. Mrs. Doster was removed to the military hospital at Camp Furlong, where surgeons said she would recover.

Captain Doster was assigned to this post July 25, last year, coming from Camp Kearny, Calif. He formerly lived at Pasadena, Calif.

TERIBLY SWOLLENSuffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated, and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Thedford's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Thedford's Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it! NC-13

As late as 2 o'clock numerous restaurants and cafes are still filled with men, and some women, with orchestras & electric pianos going full blast. Streets in the "gay life" districts are still brilliantly lighted, taxicabs sit about and the sidewalk have many strollers. What is called "reveling" in the restaurants, is, however, not in evidence. The patrons sit and listen to the music, eat or sip their wine or other drinks, but, as an American observer put it, "there are no high jinks."

VETERAN WHO GOT DIPLOMA FIFTY YEARS LATE IS DEAD.

Lafayette, Ga.—Captain James Marion Jackson, Confederate soldier, who had the distinction of receiving his diploma from the University of Georgia fifty years after his class should have been graduated, is dead at his home here.

When the Civil War broke he was a student at the Georgia institution, and with other young men left to join the Confederate army.

Just fifty years later, by special act of the legislature, diplomas these students would have received on graduation were conferred upon survivors of the class.

HAWAIIAN HANGS TO MAIL DURING 51 DAYS DRIFT.

Honolulu. — After fifty-one days at sea in an open boat with no supply of food or water, J. Kelepa Kanchaku, a husky Hawaiian mail carrier, has been returned to Honolulu not only alive but very little the worse for his experience.

Nearly two months ago Kanchaku started out with a little motor boat containing the mail for a half-day's run to a neighboring island. On the way engine trouble developed and by the time this was fixed the supply of gasoline was exhausted through the waste due to the repairs.

Caught in the currents between the islands, the little craft drifted hundreds of miles, but always within easy swimming distance of the shore. Kanchaku, however, refused to desert the mail or abandon the craft of his employer. For several days he was without water and for many days was without food. When it did rain a canvas drained the water from the little deck forward into gasoline cans and a fishhook and piece of red cloth to attract fish enabled the unfortunate man to catch enough to sustain life.

Rescue was finally effected by Japanese fishermen who were putting to sea for a long trip. Their hatchets were well filled with ice, so that to return to Honolulu caused them very considerable loss, but with characteristic consideration they took the motor boat in tow and put back to Honolulu. That day the men in the Japanese market made up a considerable purse and presented it to the Hawaiian who had been so faithful to his trust.

DIVORCE BLAMED

TO OUIJA BOARD.

San Francisco, Calif.—Enter the ouija board as a factor in divorce. Mrs. Delta Lage filed suit in the Superior court for divorce from Harry Lage because the spirits told him through the ouija board that he didn't love her any more and should leave her.

They were married at Stockton, July 6, 1919, and separated February 8, 1920, due, she says, to spiritualistic advice transmitted to her husband that day. For a long time, she says, "he was a constant attendant at spiritualistic seances and permitted his daily conduct and his relations to his wife to be guided entirely by spiritualistic mediums."

She asks the court to compel him to call up, through the ouija board or otherwise, $100 a month alimony for her and fees for her lawyer, I. Gossaves.

She Hates to Disappoint You

It requires less work and is far more pleasant for the operator to connect you with the party you are calling than to report back that the "Line is Busy" or "They Don't Answer."

When she is compelled to give you this information, don't argue with her. Other subscribers are waiting and to waste her time makes everybody's service worse.

Keep smiling while you 'phone
—whether you yet your party or not.

PEPTO-MANGAN FOR “SPRING FEVER”

Spring Days Are Treacherous—Germs
Don't Disappear with Cold Weather

AND BLOOD IS SLUGGISH AND WEAK
Don't Take Chances If You Feel Bad.
Enrich Your Blood With Pepto-Mangan.

There is a great deal of serious sickness in the Spring.

And it is easy to see why. Long weeks pent up indoors, too little exercise and fresh air, winter sicknesses not entirely over with, a generally lowered vitality. Blood weak and sluggish. Then come fine Spring days—that are not as warm as they seem; or sudden changes in the weather, and you haven't taken proper precautions.

Vigorous, red-blooded people don't often get sick. If you're not feeling your best, get Pepto-Mangan of your druggist and take it to build up your blood. This effective and agreeable tonic has been tested for over thirty years, and physicians, everywhere, recommend it for run-down, pale, and anemic people.

The whole family should take Pepto-Mangan—it is good health insurance. Besides, what a joy it is to feel fit and fine—ready for anything! To have an abundance of energy and enthusiasm.

Pepto-Mangan is for sale at your druggist's, and in both liquid and tablet form. There is no difference in medicinal value. Take whichever you prefer. But to make sure you get the genuine, ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" and see that the name "Gude's" is on the package.—Advertisement.

SHORTAGE OF YOUNG PREACHERS ALARMING

Candidates for the Ministry are Very Scarce Among the Protestant Churches.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The alarming decrease in the number of candidates for the ministry that has occurred in the last two years, must be met by vigorous action on the part of the protestant churches of North America, according to Dr. Henry H. Sweets, executive secretary of the Southern Presbyterian committee on Christian education and ministerial education.

In common with other churches of the United States, the Southern Presbyterian church is feeling the great need of recruits for the ministry. In 1919, eleven presbyteries reported to the General Assembly that they had no candidates on their rolls. They had 218 churches, 136 ministers, 708 elders, 727 deacons and 18,820 communicants. Fourteen thousand, four hundred and four members were enrolled in their Sunday schools; yet the call to the ministry had not reached the ears of a single man or woman.

Dr. Sweets declared that a church of 270 members, which recently came to his attention, has never sent out a minister or missionary in its history except the daughter of one of its pastors, who had decided to go before she moved her membership to that church. The church was organized 80 years ago.
